Twelve years ago an insurance agent, now a ward politician in Atlanta, induced Mr. Massey, of Macon, to take what Massey claims was a ten-year endowment policy in the Cotton States Insurance Company. Massey took the policy without reading it, stinted himself for ten years in order to get money to meet heavy drafts on him for premiums, and at the expiration of the time, took the well-preserved policy out of his chest and went ot Atlanta for his fortune. Arriving there he was told that the that the "grand old party" has a fair fightpaper was but an ordinary life policy and has taken a fresh grip and the signs of he would have to die to win. Returns to last Saturday from the corps of correspondents of the Department of Agri-culture at Washington, relative to the cotton crop, show a slight improvement, since the this election means is that the real battle last report. The weather has been gener- ground is shifted to New York again. The ally favorable for picking, and in portions of the fields the top crop has yielded better than was feared. There were no frosts in October except on the Northern border of the cotton belt, and at least an average length of seasons is already assured. Returns give county estimates of average pared with the crop of last year. The indicated product, considering rate of yield and acreage, is nearly 86 per cent. of last year's appointment that Mahone was defeated, but crop. The averages of yield per acre are: North Carolina 160, South Carolina 143, Georgia 132, Florida, (for sea island and upland,) 98, Alabama 128, Mississippi 175, Louisiana 228, Texas 163, Arkansas 230, Tennessee 181. The product compared with 1882 is: For North Carolina 85 per cent., South Carolina 84, Georgia 90, Florida 98, Alabama 91, Mississippi 85, Louisiana 86, Texas 80, Arkansas 87, Tennessee 95.

PROHIBITION IN GEORGIA.

Georgia had an interesting campaign on the liquor question during the past week in the five leading counties. The wholesale liquor dealers, whose business is being badly broken up by the continued restrictions upon their trade, sent out agents with whisky to influence the voters. In Taylor con wholesale house, after buying twentyfive votes with twenty-five drinks, was arrested and is held under twenty-five warrants. The county was carried by the whisky men. In Meriwether a little fight was made, resulting in a victory for whisky. In Floyd, prohibition was also defeated. Campbell county, however, voted prohibition, and so did Cattoosa county. Actual prohibition now prevails in over one-half of the State. In the elections to come the wholesale whisky men of Atlanta, Macon, Augusta and Savannah will enter with vim, furnishing all the liquor needed free. Free whisky absolutely controls the negro vote. subterfuge of selling brandy peaches. The grand jury now in session have taken hold ging for a chance to reform.

ECHOES OF THE ELECTION.

Politicians in Washington are inclined to the opinion that the elections of last week materially change the political aspect for the Presidential race. Republicans who have recently been despondent now believe promise are considered abundant to warrant are elated.

The ground for this, in the language of a high official, is: "We would have been beaten already had we lost both Virginia and New York. The loss of the latter and the gain of Virginia would have been an equivocal victory. We should have required the Virginia and North Carolina electoral votes to offset New York, and the carrying of any Southern State in 1884 was, carrying of any Southern State in 1884 was, next candidate must be a man who can carry New York. It is a triumph for Arthur. Look at it as you may, it gives him surer footing for the nomination. It also places Tilden in the front again, for many Democrats think he is the only one who can carry New York. There is no reasonable hope of us breaking the solid South. Let it go and Mahoneism with it. We

The President has openly expressed dishe is so well pleased with the gains in New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and elsewhere that he is not greatly disheartened. He had hardly hoped for a Republican victory in Maryland, though he had been heartily anxious to aid Mr. Holten. Secretary Teller says that he considers Butler dead as a door nail, and that Mahone is ying very low, but he is not positive that the Readjuster may not have life enough left to stand on his feet next year.

In New York it is conceded by the more astute politicians of both parties that the elections have demonstrated several things which must exercise a commanding influence in the future. First, that the greatly reduced Democratic majority on the State ticket, with the defeat outright of Maynard, as secretary of State, eliminates Governor Cleveland (who insisted on Maynard's nomination) from the possible list of Democratic candidates for the Presidency. Second, county, Cooper King, a drummer of a Ma- that the capture of both branches of the Legislature by the Republicans defeats the el at 11 A. This is a suit to be elected by that body in 1884. Third, that, as a consequence of this, the "Boss" will be unable to play the anticipated role of dictator in the National Convention. Fourth, that Ben. Butler, as a possible Democratic candidate for the Presidency, has been relegated to the same category with Governor Cleveland. Fifth, that the experiment of running a prohibition candidate on a Democratic ticket will never again be repeated in this State as long as German and Irish votes are required; and day, morning and evening. lastly, that the election of a nominal Republican, Seth Lowe, as mayor of Brooklyn, with the help of the Citizens' organization In Worth county, where prohibition now and the Independent Democrats, is a severe, prevails, merchants have resorted to the if not a fatal, blow to "Boss" rule over subterfuce of selling brandy neaches.
